

<sup>new</sup> Drug Injury

Second Edition

Here is the must-have reference for attorneys and others with a professional or personal interest in prescription drug safety and product liability.

Drug Injury, Second Edition, features timely and insightful articles written by lawyers who specialize in FDA issues, health care and regulatory law, malpractice defense and product liability. Other contributors include pharmacists, pharmacologists, physicians and toxicologists.

The new edition provides updated information about Vioxx, Accutane, OxyContin, Ephedra, FenPhen, Rezulin, Baycol and other medications that have been the subject of product liability suits.

Editor James T. O'Donnell, PharmD, is a nationally recognized expert in pharmacy law and drug safety. He is associate professor of pharmacology at Rush Medical College in Chicago, a diplomate, American Board of Clinical Pharmacy and fellow, American College of Pharmacology and the American College of Nutrition. He also is a regular contributor to Pharmacy Practice News and several other publications on the subjects of medication safety and pharmacy law.
